While attempting to pass the ASVAB, people take mental shortcuts to try and stay in the green zone, based on their predicted scores. Unfortunately, this can lead to confusion, mistakes, and a more difficult test. The Navy has developed a Field Test of Verbal Ability (FTVA) to assist sailors in answering free response questions. This is a must to pass your ASVAB, in addition to your Science and Electronics Subtests.

The FTVA is given in blocks of 60 seconds each. You are given "Filler" questions, or questions that you do not need to answer in order to pass, to help you through the test. This allows you to spend more time on each question. You will also be given 45 seconds to answer each question. The questions cover vocabulary words, phrases, and compound words. If you find yourself getting stuck on a question, chances are there is a different way to answer. Also, note that in the case of an "I don't know" response, you will have 60 seconds to think about your answer. Let's take a look at a basic example of the FTVA Example: You are given the following question:

"Which of the following best describes an eigenfunction?" There are two options, you have 45 seconds to answer. Option A: "A wavefunction."

Filler: "Did you mean Eigenfunction?" Answer: The correct answer is Eigenfunction. With 45 seconds, you have to remember what

Eigenfunction is. Without more time, you will be stuck.Democrats seek to boost turnout with Obama DALLAS — Barack Obama is banking on his warm and genial personality to help him win the White House a second time as he crisscrosses the country seeking to build a coalition of
