

amada ap100 software crack downloadQ: How do I change the default application linked from the Android settings menu? When I click the "App Settings" button on the system Settings menu, by default it opens up a list of apps from the "Android Market" app. I prefer to have a list of installed apps. How can I change this? (I'm running Android 4.0.4 Ice Cream Sandwich on a Nexus 4.) A: From the PC version's Google Play app, go to Menu > My Apps. There you can change the order of the apps on the list from the system settings. (This works on Android 4.0 on the old Galaxy S 2 as well as on 4.0 on my Nexus S 4G.) Q: DynamoDB FilterExpression to Query I am using dynamoDB filtering to pull the information from the table for the given users. The documentation, states that The FilterExpression object is used to filter records from a table by using a set of key and value pairs. The documentation also states that The range key of the expression might be an attribute value, an array value, or the name of a metric. When I use the Range key as "user", i get the following error. Response: "message" => "Unsupported: KeyConditionExpression attributes must be strings" However, when i use the Range key as "user:000000000" or "user:000000000-000000000" or "user:000000000-000000000-000000000", it gives me the records for the given user. So, it seems to be a problem with the ":" and "-" combination. Please find the code below for the filter expression. { "FilterExpression" : "user:user" } A: You are using the wrong syntax when you are creating your filter. There are multiple ways to specify a condition. The syntax you are using is for when the range key is not specified (which is why you will see you are able to filter on user without a key). To ensure your filter is correct, you should be able to use the following syntax. { "FilterExpression" : "user
